

What Stops You From Being Rich

This book is dedicated to the topic that troubles many of us: what are those internal aims and features of our character that prevent us from reaching financial freedom?

This book is written using materials from numerous consultations and training sessions dedicated to attracting finances into individuals' lives as well as reconstruction and reinforcement of businesses. It contains numerous specific examples, exercises and recommendations that can be used by anyone irregardless of educational level, financial position etc. Many people have already been offered highly-paid positions, achieved success in business or repaid all their loans with help from this book.

This book can help business people successfully predict how they can prevent some mistakes made by other entrepreneurs.

The book develops the system of views towards the world described in the book "What to do, when everything is not the way you would like it to be".
